Name of Guest : Ms. Neha Pansari
Designation : Vice President, Internal Audit and Analytics
Date: 4th October 2020

During the session, students about digital transformation, its key points and the initiatives taken by the organisation to adopt the digital transformation. The basic question was explained as to what is exactly digital transformation and how has it come handy to people during this pandemic. Why do we really need digital transformation? We need digital transformation to cater to rising cost pressures, changing customer expectations are few reasons for the same. Examples of digital transformation like phone banking, E-locker, alexa , online shopping, chatbots etc were discussed. Future of digital transformation was also discussed, as what we can expect like touchless transactions , self service bots etc. As we move to digital transformation, one thing that is continuously increasing is amount of data generated. Data is the new oil. Proper and accurate analysis of this data is vital. To explain all this the question why analytics was explained well. Steps involved in the analysis and maturity model were briefly discussed.
